about this Object:

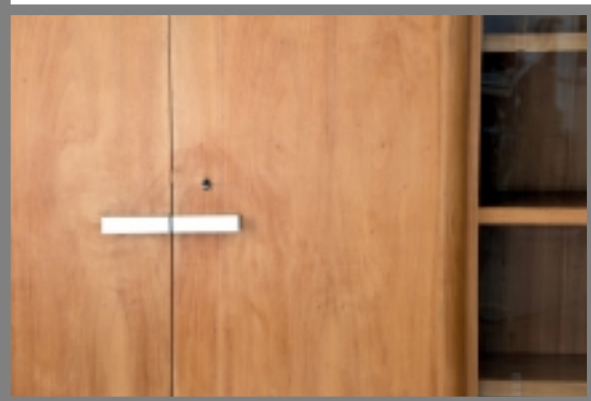

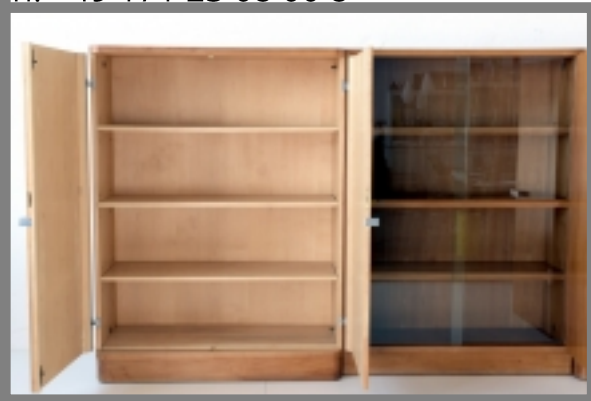

Wonderfully preserved shows the unusual 3-piece cabinet of the Berlin manufacturer BRUMAX from Berlin Neukölln from the 1930s. It is a 3-piece furniture in segmental construction which can be singularly positioned or individually combined. All parts are made of solid wood or blockboard, cherry outside, maple veneered in the best workmanship and almost perfect original condition. The parts can be screwed together laterally. Charming is the only half-height design with the restored bookcase and the bulging body parts with the horizontal angle handle elements in matt chrome.
